PIXEL HEALTH.

By itself, a pixel is just a tiny square of color but it's a vital element, the building block for a much larger, vibrant mosaic. Taken together, pixels create an image. Images complete thoughts. Thoughts can change thinking and revolutionize an industry.

Each member of the Pixel Health portfolio of companies stands alone but taken together, can affect technology decisions across the continuum of care. It's not just what we do. It's how we do it.

Pixel Health consultancies facilitate the use of technology, simplify the process of using it, and help overcome the organizational constraints of optimizing its adoption. We help make the delivery of care better.

It's the linking of technology improvements directly to clinical outcomes led by world class healthcare executives at Nectar Strategic Consulting.
